*HOPE: Home and Overseas Project Management Excellence intends to create a vocational training course for project managers in the community development sector. Learn more at:

The HOPE project centers around the competencies and skills required for working as a project manager in the community development sector, both at European and international level. On the 8th of July, the HOPE project team met online, having discussed the finalization of the first result of the project - the multilingual glossary - as well as the survey that took place at the time.

The developed glossary will help people interested in coordinating development projects to understand exactly what a development project is and the different terms that accompany project management. It is an innovative product that includes terms in 4 languages, as a result of exchanges between HOPE partners, from different countries.

On the second week of September, the team reunited again to discuss the next steps, in particular the making of the field study report about the knowledge and competencies required for project development.

NEW PROJECT!

Another project on the way - the IntCultAE project has been approved by the Polish National Agency of the Erasmus+ Programme.

Multiculturalism is one of the pillars of the European Union. In the context of globalisation, educators face many challenges, but they have unparalleled potential in promoting what is best when in contact with diversity. The IntCultAE project will use films, comics, and real stories to offer an online course on intercultural competences to adult educators. With this project, we will help to better promote understanding about cultural diversity, intercultural competences, and democratic values.

The project is yet to start, but we can't wait to tell you the news and a little bit about this project. Stay tuned!
